W. H. French, editor of the Chandler, O. T. Publicist died yesterday from getting a fish bone lodged in his throat.

Newspapers in the states and territories are printing the election tickets to be used next Tuesday. The ticket requires more than one page of a six column paper, and is so intricate that only a Philadelphia lawyer could read and vote it intelligently. It ought to be worth a two dollar bill to vote that ticket.

At the Chautauqua Literary Social Circle of Chickasha yesterday afternoon the following was one of the questions: "What control has the Secretary of the interior over the Choctaw and Chickasaw Nations?" That is a question that has been a puzzler to the wise men of the press of this territory for a long time, and the ladies' answer, if it can be secured, will be awaited with great interest.

Mrs. Eugene Hamilton, in "Current Topics" at Sorosis, yesterday, gave the information that the duke and duchess of Marlborough had been made viceroy and vice reine of Ireland. Well, with "our Mary," Miss Leiter, formerly of Chicago and Washington, now vice-reine of India, and our own Consuela Vanderbilt vice-reine of Ireland, we are getting along very well with our imperialism, thank you, whether the "Bill" before the American people for the last four years is laid under the table next Tuesday or not.

A Bit of Repartee.

Rev. D. E. Cameron, the minister in charge of the M. E. church south at this place, and who besides being a good preacher can see the big end of a joke when shot at him, got one yesterday. He was telling an admiring crowd that on his way home from Conference he took a "straw vote" on the train to test who would be the next president. He got 20 votes for Bryan, 16 for McKinley and 18 for Prohibition. "Ah," exclaimed an ardent republican, "that was the vote of the Methodist Conference coming home." Bro. Cameron is a red hot Democrat and he saw the point, and a "shake" was the outcome.

SOROSIS.

The club met yesterday afternoon in the handsome parlor of Mrs. Light's home on west hill. President, Mrs. Briggs occupying the chair, and calling the meeting to order promptly on the hour.

Roll call responded to with quotations. Twenty-five members present.

Reading minutes of last meeting by secretary, Mrs. Mathews. Minutes approved.

A business session, in which one name for membership, Mrs. J. C. Crosley, was balloted on. Elected unanimously. This fills out the new roll of membership to thirty members, the number decided upon when the new year books were gotten up. One name is yet before the club, and at the first vacancy, will be elected to membership.

A discussion on the "park" was taken up, and a committee chosen by election, to be ready for action when the town site question is settled. The committee has Mrs. F. E. Riddle as chairman with Mesdames H. B. Johnson, B. P. Smith, Harry Welsh, and John W. Light as her coadjutors.

The program for the afternoon was then taken up, and the club listened to an instructive and excellent paper on architecture, Doric, Ionic, Corinthian Gothic, Roman and the Renaissance by Mrs. J. H. Griffin. The lady has travelled in foreign lands and has seen many of the famous buildings of the old world, and could speak of them intelligently, her experience being well supplemented by reading and research. A number of questions prepared by Mrs. Griffin and answered by members of the club, added to the interest of the lesson.

Mrs. Ware's paper on the origin and customs of Hallow'een told many things in a new and original style, and was listened to with pleasure. Mrs. Ware brought to the minds of dignified Sorosis the day of "Auld Lang Syne," so very long ago with some—with others only last Hallow'een.

Current topics and adjournment, to meet next Wednesday afternoon, November 7th, hostess, Mrs. Louthan.

Mrs. Eugene Hamilton, on "How to judge a picture and how to hang it." Mrs. J. E. Mathers will write of the "Paris Exposition." Conversation by the club will follow each paper.

Mrs. F. E. Ridgely, critic being absent, there was no "Critic's Report." Mrs. F. E. Riddle will act as critic until Mrs. Ridgely's return.

Before making our adieu to Mrs. Light and each other, a pleasant social few minutes was enjoyed and every one made the new members, Mrs. E. L. Dawson, and Mrs. H. B. Johnson welcome. The Sorosis babies, Miss Fannie Allee Riddle and Master Richard Terry Nail were present and came in for their share of admiration and attention. Who was it that said that woman's clubs were not conducive to the home happiness and the love of children. Sorosis mothers and babies prove the contrary.

HALLOW'EEN PARTY.

Last evening when all nature was imbued with the spirit of Hallow'een, the grazing herds left sloping hill and peaceful vale and thence themselves departed in pairs, the covies heard it and mated in the fields, the quail wooed his love in the wheat, the robin whispered to his love in the glen, the lark was so brimful of gladness and love that he sang "I love my love and my love loves me." Love songs bubbled from the mellow throats of mocking birds and bobolinks, dove cooed love to dove, and the maiden, monkey, fair "Juliet" of the house of the Onrang-ontang, waited on her coconut balcony for the coming of her "Romeo," and thus plaintively sang: "My sweetheart is the lovely baboon."

The young people of Chickasha heard the wooing, mated and marched to Miss Jennie Williams on south hill, where Orpheus and Terpsichore held a grand fete until a wee hour of the night.

Grogan College Examination.

Last Friday was regular monthly examination day of the pupils of Grogan College, and the pupils showed very satisfactory results of their month's work. We mention only the classes in latin, geometry, algebra, physics, advanced arithmetic and grammar, the most of which made grades of from 95 to 100, quite a goodly number being 100. The examination and grading being very rigid and thorough on the subjects passed over.
